POVRŠINA ARHITEKTURNEGA PROSTORA

Arhitekturni prostor je vedno nekaj snovnega: naj bo poln ali prazen, vedno ga občutimo s svojim telesom, s svojimi čutili. Čeprav se njegova pripoved razteza onkraj njegove fizične prisotnosti, ima nujno tudi svojo mejo, svojo površino. Kje je površina arhitekture? Je to površina njene fizične telesnosti? Je to le njena forma? Kaj je tisto, kar omejuje prostor arhitekture? Se površinskost današnjega časa zrcali tudi v arhitekturi? Je začela površina, ki je doslej prekrivala in – kar je še pomembneje – razkrivala vsebino, od nje odstopati? Je površina postala poglavitni nagovor arhitekture?

SURFACE OF ARCHITECTURAL SPACE

Architectural space is always made of substance: empty or full, we always feel it with our body and our senses. Although it can speak beyond its physical presence, it has at the same time its limits, its surface. Where is the surface of the architecture? Is it in its physical presence? Is it only in its form? What is it that limits the space of architecture? Does superficiality of our time reflects also in architecture? Until now, the surface has always covered and – even more important – revealed its content. Has it started to depart from it? Has the surface become the essential language of the architecture?
